Discovery Questions

- How do you make Jesus a part of making peace in the midst of a conflict in your home, thus honoring Him?
- What does “become a student of your family mean?” In what ways have you become or do you need to become more of a student of your family?
- How does correction work within your family? How is it delivered and how is it received? What is one way to make this more process more loving?

Putting It Into Practice

Each week Pastor Scott will challenge you to put into practice what you are learning. These challenges will help you take the concepts we are learning deeper into your life and help you with your own personal hope. This week Pastor Scott challenges us to:

1. Make a commitment to loving you family more deeply

This week make an intentional practice to show love in family interactions. Behave differently than you may feel at the moment to bring that environment of love and acceptance that surpasses understanding.

2. Attend your LIFE Group

It is important for us as a group to gather consistently over the next weeks as we learn more and more about building relationships. Keep it going during the week by touch base with some of those in your group. Our gathering is not just to learn the concepts but to support one another on our journey and to do life together.

3. Attend Church Gatherings (Live or Online)

Everything we do together over these next weeks is designed to help equip you in your personal day to day lives. Attending the weekend gatherings will help to guide your group time to keep the conversation going.

Prayer Time

As a group spend some time in prayer together about the study you are now doing. You may want to spend some time sharing something you are struggling with and pray for one another. Pray that each member of the group will grow personally through this study.

TIP: Use index cards to submit a prayer request for you. Of course, it is always valuable to pray for others (and there are other opportunities to do so) but in the moment make it personal in this first week. Exchange cards by gender so you may be prayed for throughout the week.
